RANDI VAN AIRSDALE

TO THE BEST POWER
AROUND? GOOD LUCK
IN FUTURE YEARS.
Edward Miklowe

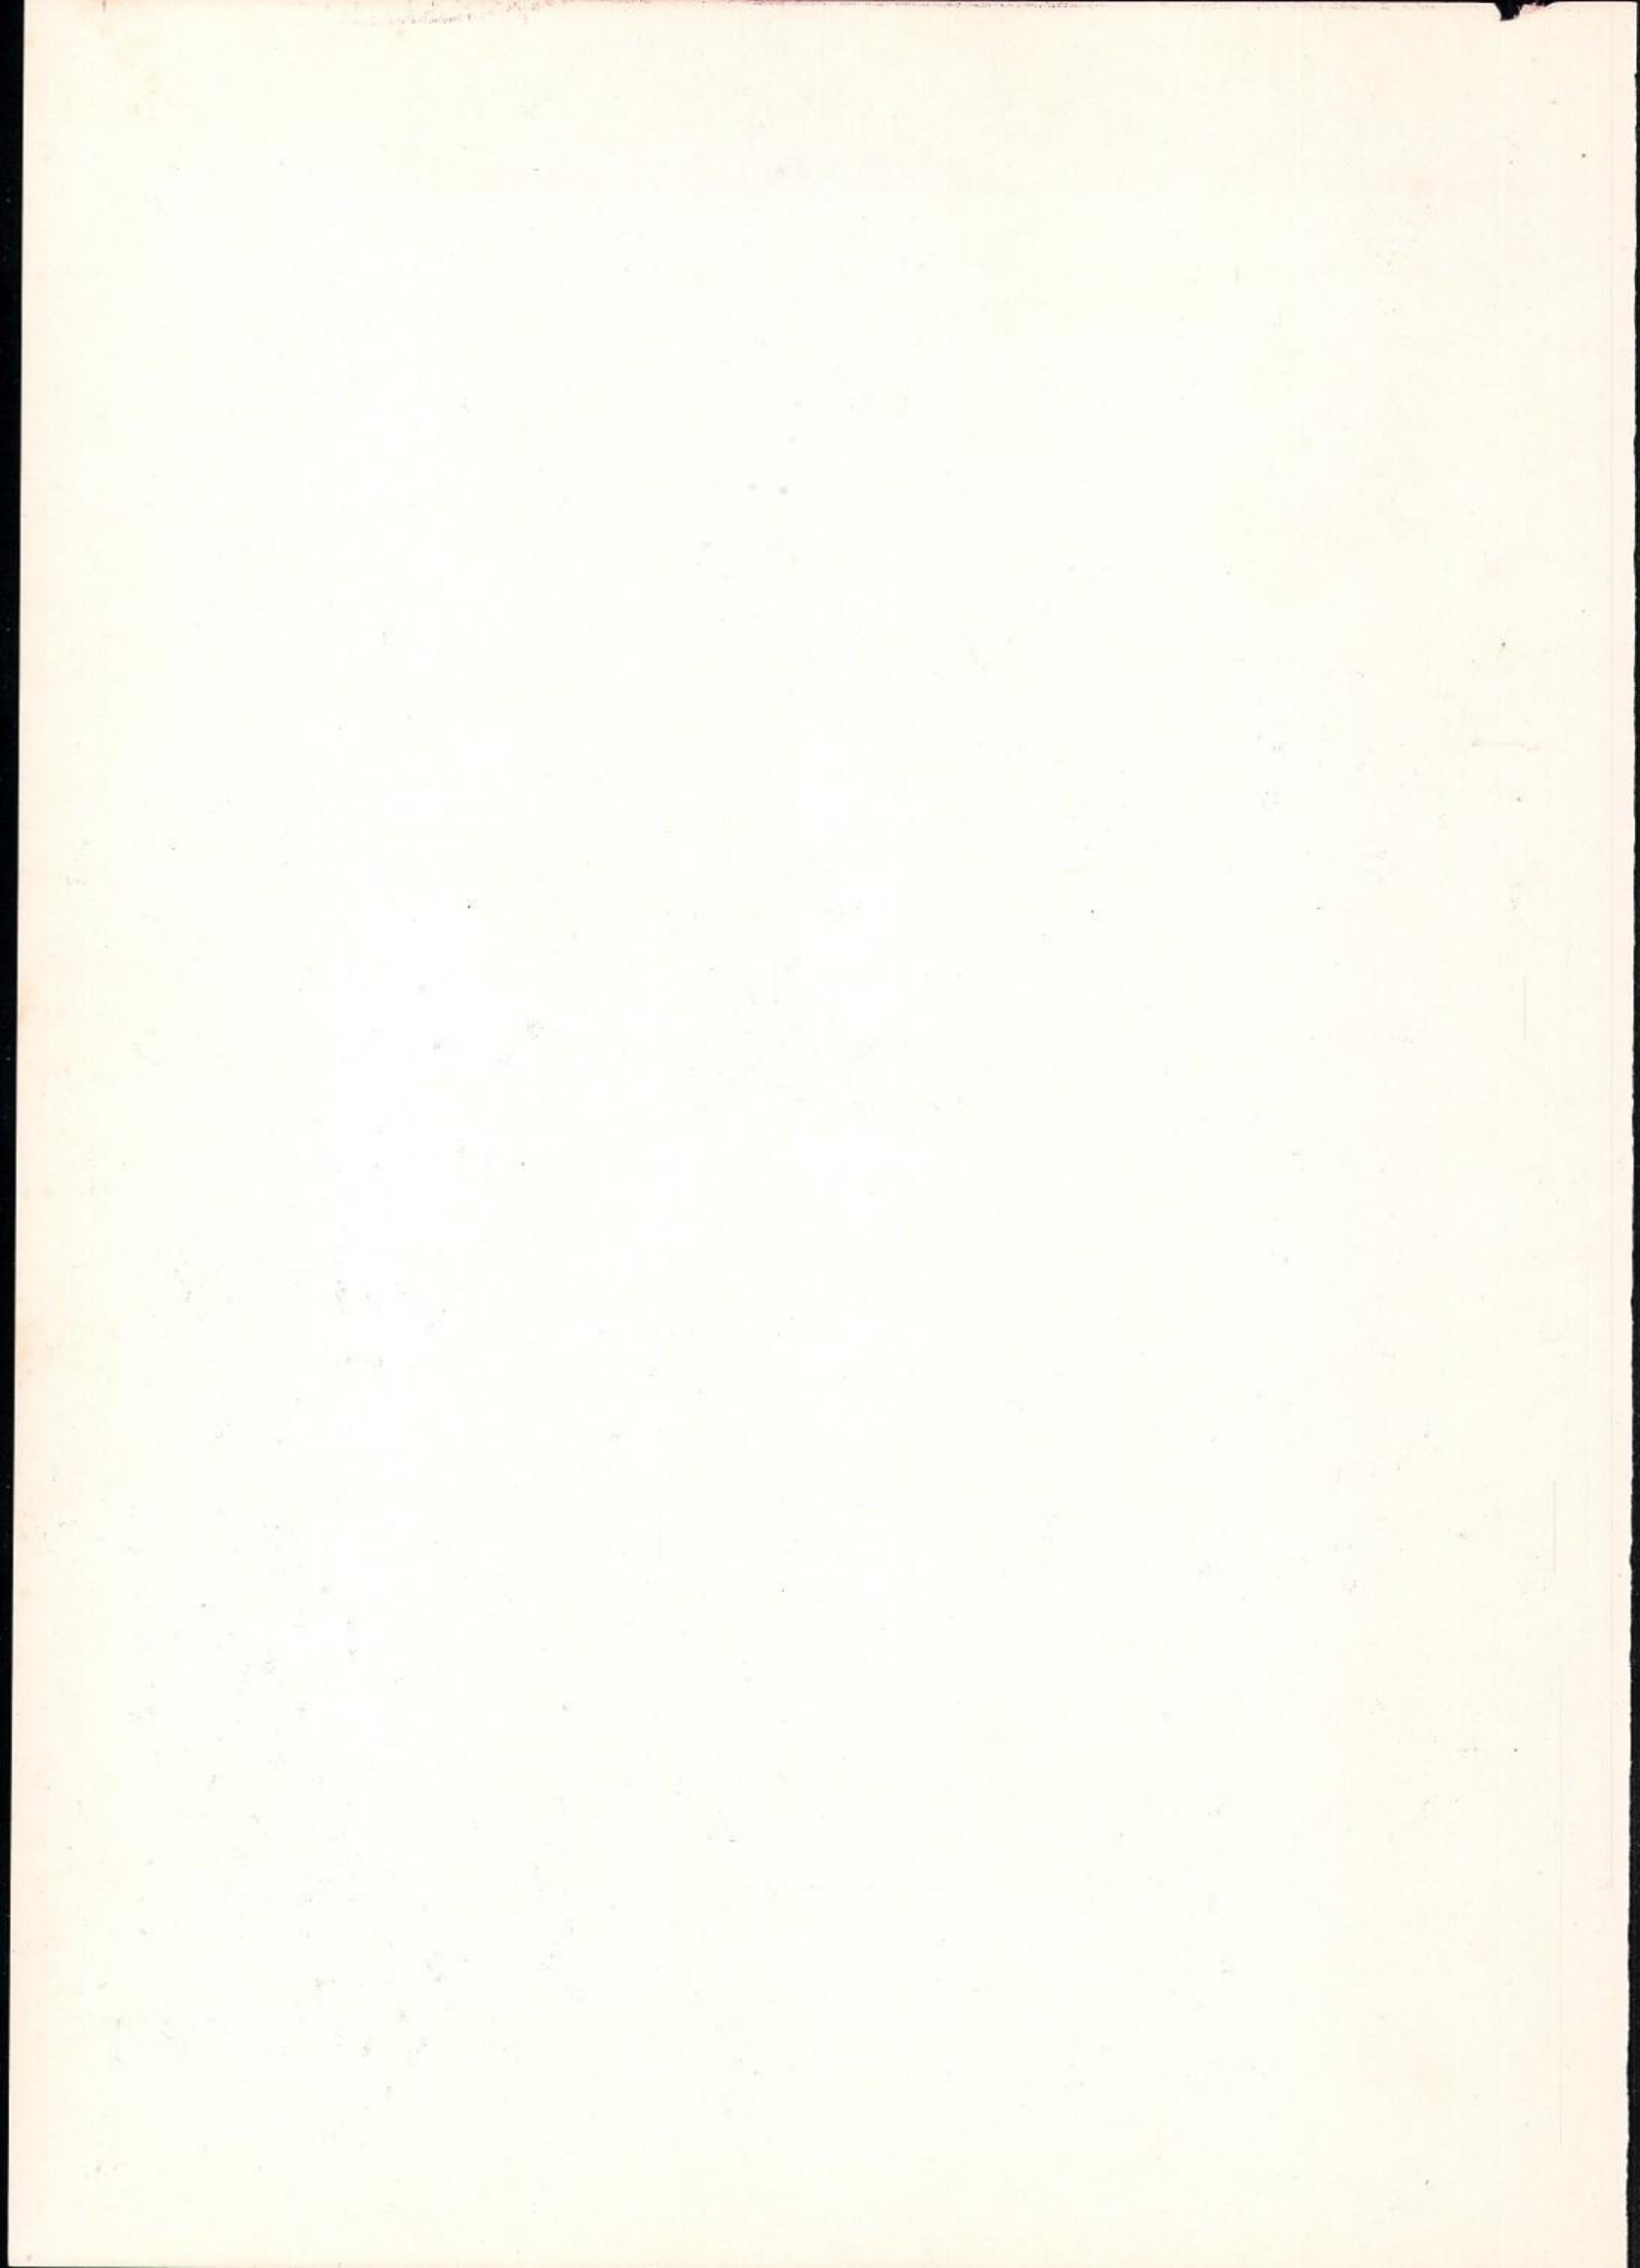

Randy,
It's a miss knowing you for the past four years. Hope to see you again sometime!
Good luck! Randy

RANDI
all seem really fun having you
in Business Class.
Have a fantastic summer and lots of love and peace
John

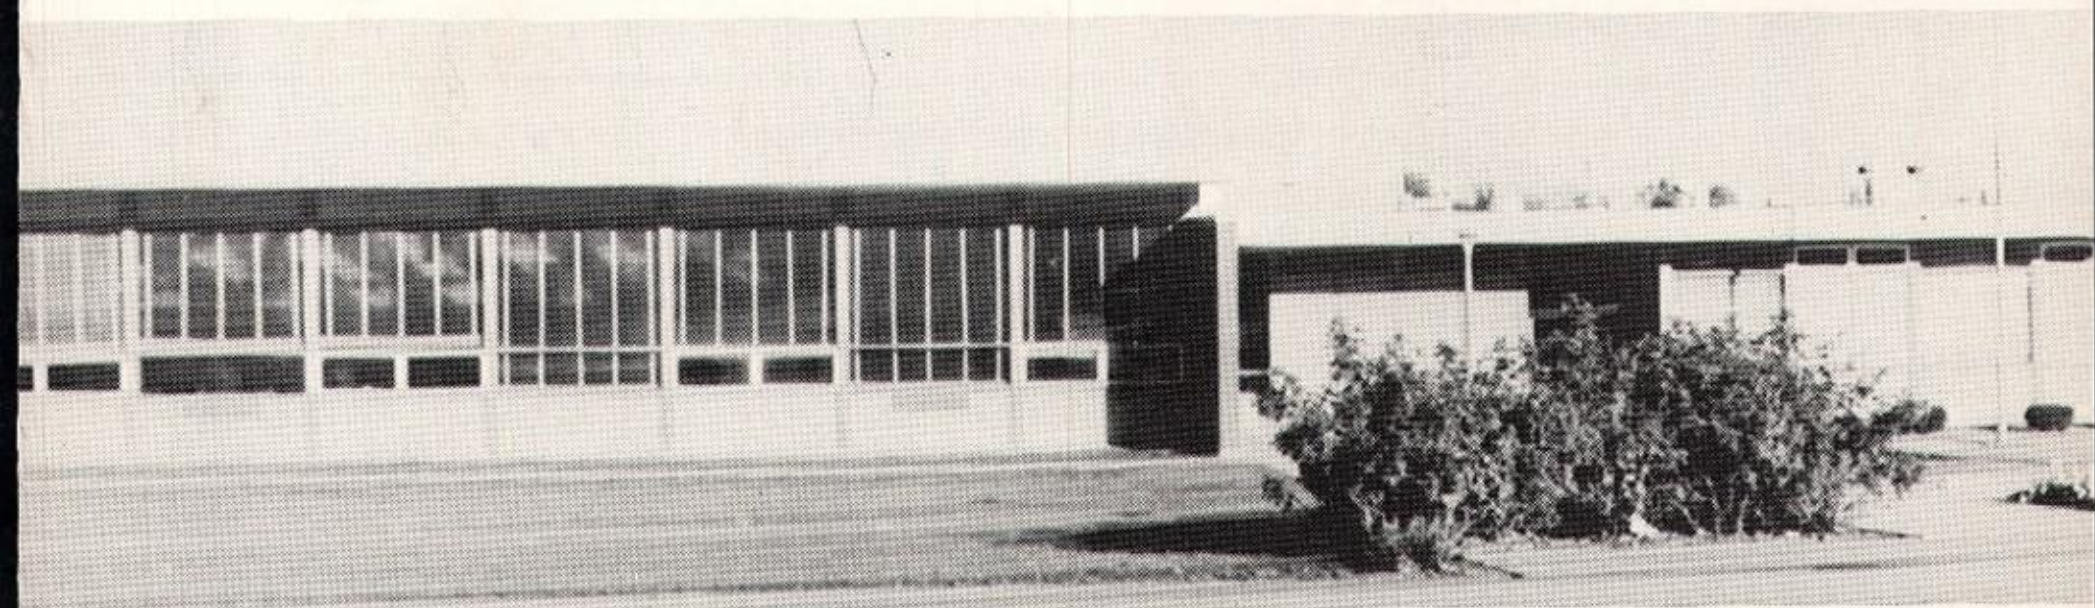

Randi,
I wish was pretty fun,
but I keep reading all those fab French writers. I see you some time I hope (probably) riding around in some 450 something!
Nadine

Randi
I hope you have a great summer and lots of love and peace
John

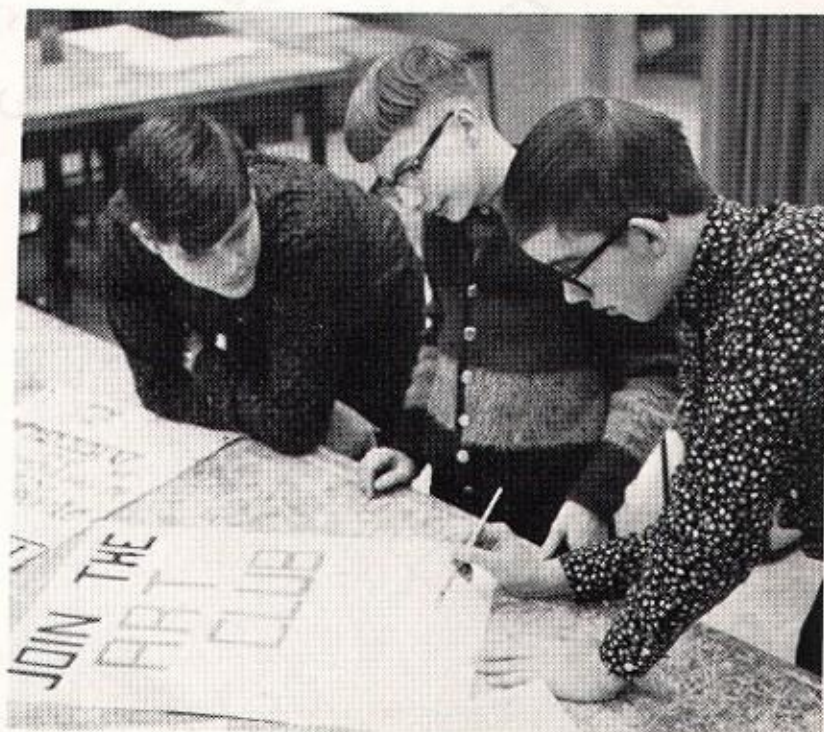

Randi,
I hope you have a great summer and lots of love
and peace

ACADEMIC LIFE

This is our life or part of it at least. But what do these pictures mean? They're nothing but carbon copies of the truth. That's why they're here, to remind you that somewhere in the past Monona Grove has given you something positive.

The picture of the hallway means nothing unless you walked it. Maybe it was empty and you trudged the long walk to your locker after a make-up test. Or maybe it was full of people, happy as they packed up for the weekend. Only you know what happened.

Did someone or something affect your life in a classroom such as this? Did some teacher touch on a bit of philosophy and then fleetingly pass on, leaving some of it imbedded? You may have discovered an area of work that may someday become your future career. Science never appealed to you until you entered a chemistry lab or the resource center. You may never have even considered Speech as an area of study until you shakingly rested your hands on the podium for the first time. If nothing else, let these pictures remind you of the good, however seemingly insignificant, that passed there.

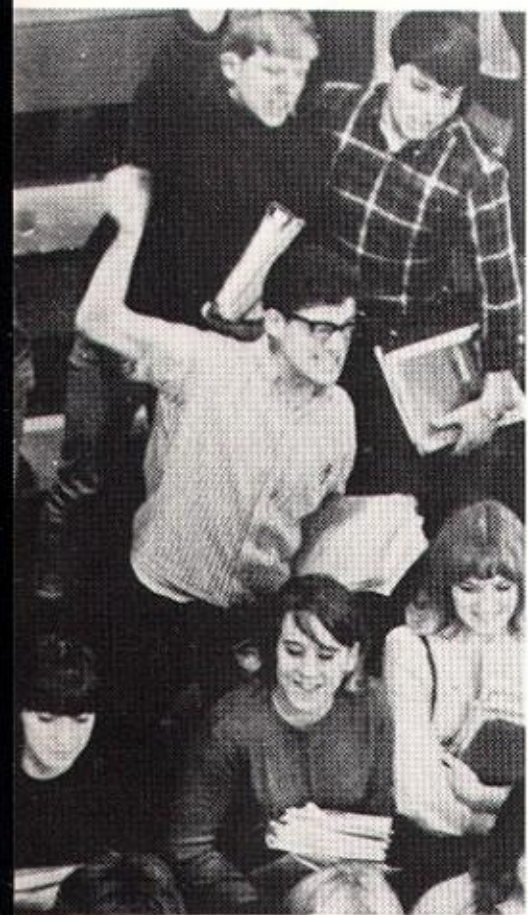

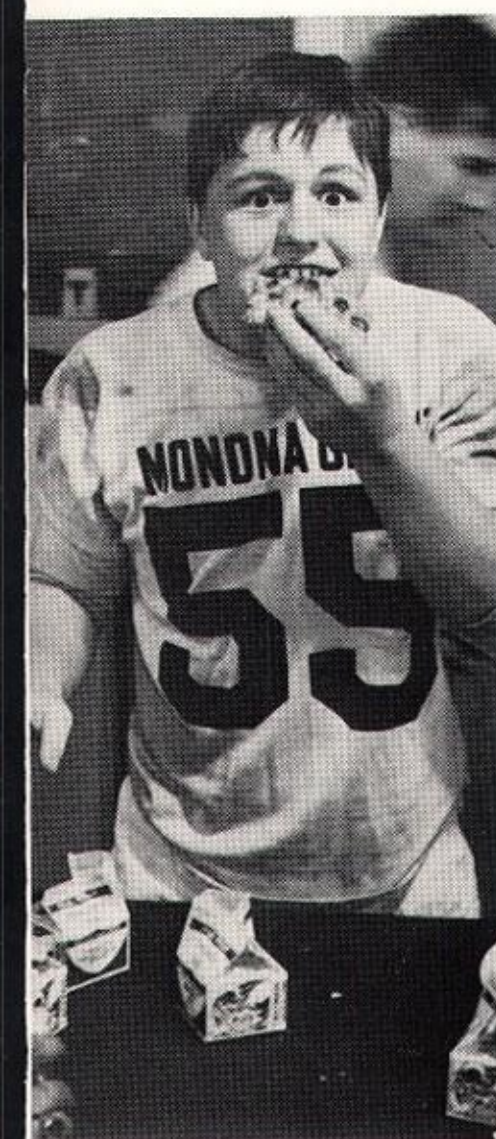

SOCIAL LIFE

This is Monona Grove- the social part. Do you remember Homecoming, 1966? The gala festivities of the rally, the parade, and the elaborate preparations led up to the finale of the dance.

But the monumental events were not the only parts of social life; each day brought new people, conversations, and its own events. Maybe you struck up a friendship over a life-and-death game of chess in the MG Room. Or maybe a bond was initiated as two unacquainted people cheered the team to victory. Or the class unity grew stronger in the pep contest competition. Or perhaps you found a friend amidst the gorging population at break. Although these memories may grow harder to recall as time passes, they are presented here to you to be remembered only as you wish them to be.

A high school program should be "designed to meet as well as possible the needs of all youth, regardless of vocational aim or academic ability. It follows that a sound educational program must be provided for those whose abilities will qualify them to pursue the most rigorous academic career in college or university, for those who are completely non-academically inclined, and for all between those extremes. The high school should do this with equal respect for all groups and with proper appreciation for the contribution which each group will make in its vocational pursuits."

MR. DONALD HELSTAD
PRINCIPAL

I am continually impressed and encouraged by the day by day evidence of students taking an increasing measure of responsibility for their own educational development. That Monona Grove students in the past have developed a high degree of personal responsibility and self-discipline is reflected in the success patterns that reveal themselves through periodic follow-up studies of each graduating class. A drop-out rate that yearly is less than one percent- a truly remarkable record- indicates the regard that our young people have for an education and, hopefully, for the record that must accompany the diploma- paper symbol of accomplishment. A wide variety of studies and reports from the guidance department, staff committees, departments, and individual teachers verify one's observations and impressions that young people are concerned with preparing themselves for the challenges and opportunities that lie in the unpredictable future. To me, the young people of Monona Grove High School daily refute the cynical cries of the critics of youth and the forecasters of doom.

Science represents a significant portion of our resource of knowledge which must be made available to students in some meaningful coherent pattern. The main goal of this educational experience is more intelligent behavior. The student must understand that science produces knowledge only to the extent that the creative nature of the individual seeks expression in thought and action.

STUDENTS

Senior Year was...

Pep marches around the halls on Friday...hitting the 3 hole pocket...anxious moments spent over ACT and SAT tests...singing the SENIOR Song...adequate thinking which led to appropriate action...trips to the Grove...a huge hot dog and marshmallow roast before the snow sets in...engines and wheels and gas tanks...a Sea of Victory...a bright touch of Malaysia among so many Americans..."tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow"...a navy blue cap and gown in which even the most scholarly looked a little unreal...

It was a world set apart from any other...to be relived only in memories as we marched on to the future.

JUNIORS

Junior Year Was.....

An overdose of Benjamin Franklin...bombarding freshmen on a rainy day and a "clean suit" in role call more often...a test frenzied scholar anticipating PSAT scores...a class ring that seems to have been fitted for your thumb... $PV=nRT$...a lonely anchor riding a ripple of waves on homecoming weekend...slow-slow-quick-quick...4¢ bottle refunds that resulted in magnified sums...a hurried lunch for a 12:20 class meeting...a question, a wonder, a prom theme...and three bars of "MELLOW YELLOW".....

"And yet, as we tried to turn potential into kinetic, the sky seemed a little bit brighter...

GOVERNMENT

The Student Council, despite past precedence, took more action than usual this year. Traditionally it unites the four commissions and the A.F.S. Committee as well as providing a unit to voice student opinion. The success of these commissions and other projects are those of Student Council also. Meetings, presided over by Jim Matson, were full of discussion and sparked with laughter. Having outgrown the existing Student Council room, meetings were held almost anywhere. Visitors were welcome but infrequent.

The trophy case in the entrance could no longer hold the evidence of MG's glories. The Student Council undertook the project of obtaining another.

The Christmas Assembly also came under the directions of the Student Council. The orchestra began the program and introduced the choir which filed in in a candlelight procession. The mens faculty quartet performed a few numbers also. There was even a visit from our own Irish Santa with raucous elves scattering goodies in his wake. Christmas carols sung by the entire student body, concluded the program.

Serious discussions concerning school spirit in 1965-66 resulted in the rebirth of the Student Faculty Relations Committee. The committee was designed to promote better understanding between teachers and students. Unfortunately, high hopes faded when rare committee meetings brought only "suggestions" that exams shouldn't accumulate on the same day in a variety of subjects.

SURINDER

A.F.S.

"Do you know," she said, "it's six months today. It's fantastic; it seems I just arrived."

But to us it seems that Surinder Kaur Jessy, Monona Grove's AFS student from Malaysia, has been here all her life. We felt that she understood us from the beginning but was still eager to see more. She has a sharp sensitivity to peoples' ways and wants to learn about ours. She will never accept them without thought, though, and we can only respect her more for this.

Her British-English is fluent for she speaks it in her school at home where she is in the Arts stream.

She makes tremendous curries, which, at home they eat twice a day, being of Indian descent. She says that she doesn't mind our food, though. (Extra pounds will attest.)

Now she is thinking of applying to the U.N. We all wish her luck; she seems to be a natural ambassador with a feeling for people and problems.

DUSTY

The Buehner Family
Cathy; Mrs. Buehner; Dusty; Kurt; Mr. Buehner; Chris.

Dusty, the A.F.S. student who joined MG at the 2nd semester, comes from Thailand. Her 1st semester was spent in Rockford Ill. and in that time she has learn to speak English very fluently. Dusty had studied English in Bangkok, Thailand, but after arriving in America, the atmosphere of English-speaking people and the necessity has helped her knowledge of English to increase greatly.

The most striking difference that Dusty has found between schools is that American schools provide a social as well as academic program for the students. Here there are clubs and athletic activities to join in or observe, and JOIN Dusty did. She's in GAA bowling, the reporting staff of the EAGLE POST, and FBLA, as well as AFS committee. She loves to cheer and finds it interesting as well as exciting to attend regularly. She also enjoys our dances.

People have given her a warm welcome and we wish her well.

Dirty paint brushes, no clean containers, words spelled wrong, tape that won't stick and a sink that won't work are just some of the troubles that Pep Commission met with this year. But the troubles were overlooked in hopes that the girls on the Commission could raise the spirit in M.G. Every Wednesday night from about 4:00 to 5:00 twenty or more girls would put their ideas together and splash them on the long strips of white paper lying in the hallway. Homecoming came and went with Pep Commission's help. Athletes were served doughnuts and milk after a strenuous afternoon or evening of competition. Color Day came twice this year as penants and buttons were sold in an atmosphere of blue and white. This year's Pep Commission attempted to bring the entire student body into the realm of competition that our athletes found themselves in throughout the 1966-67 school year.

SOCIAL COMMISSION

Have you ever seen 7 girls troop through Piggly-Wiggly followed by a very put-out clerk carrying a cumbersome box? This scene preluded Homecoming, the greatest social event of the Fall season. It's Social Commission's duty to ease the bumps of the complex 3-day festival.

The 7 girls were part of the sweatshirt-and-jean clad army encamped in Vogel's garage. The assignment was to build a float to beat those of Pep and M.G. Room Commissions. By night, the haywagon underwent the metamorphosis of changing into a float--an octopus guarding the opponents team and bearing the words "Cage the Cards!" By day, Social Commission members prepared dance decorations.

Through their efforts, Homecoming was a success and the green octopus did win the float competition.

M.G. ROOM

What is the M.G. Room?

As you entered the door at noon, you could hear the heavy beat of the records playing in the juke box. The pat-pat of the ping pong ball was ever-present from the ping pong tables. The tables along the wall were packed with kids studying, playing cards, checkers, or chess, or, just plain talking. Victory cries came from the wiffle ball soccer field.

What is the M.G. Room?

An underground haven of fun and relaxation for students.

LIBRARY

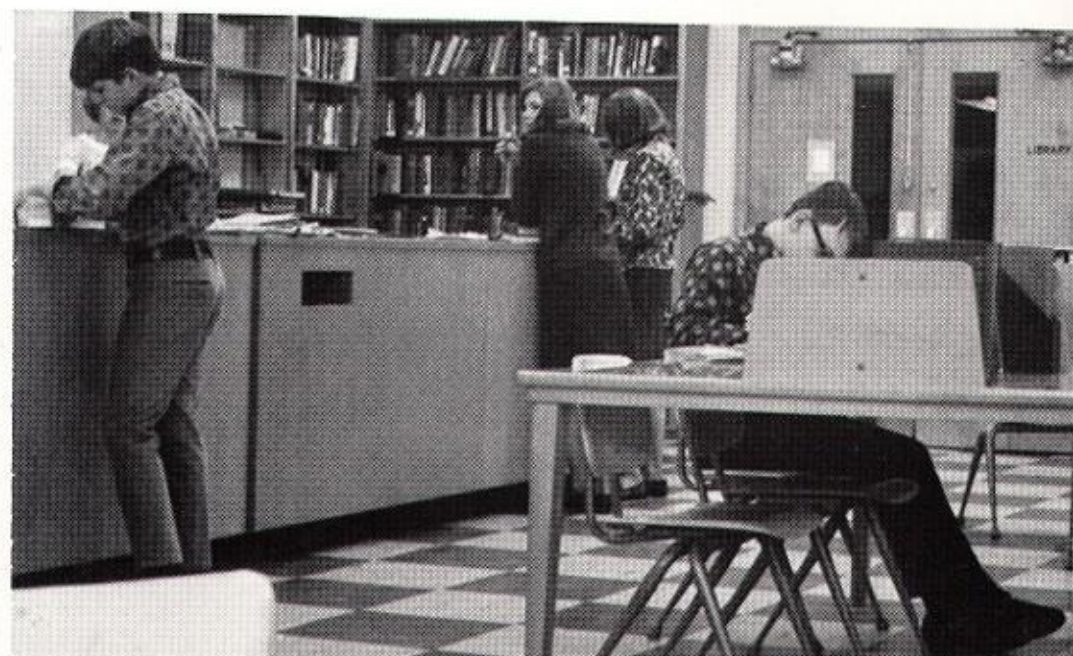

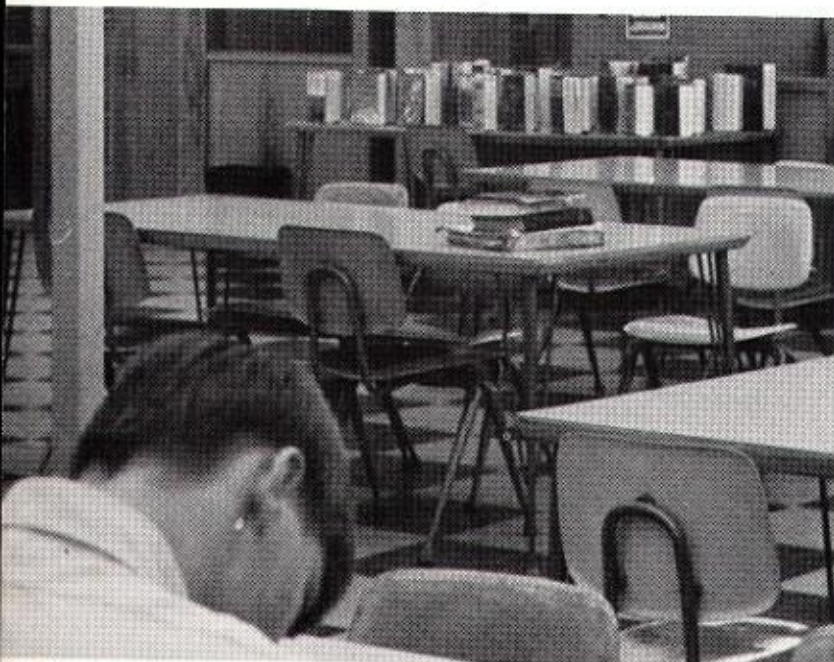

Why does MG have a library?

That answer, anyone would say, is easy --to provide a place for students to get books and do some last minute studying. This is true--but the library does more. Its modern facilities include three almost soundproof conference rooms, the verticle files (information compiled on almost any subject and arranged in folders), filmstrips, records, tapes, micro-films, newspapers, magazines, and wall-to-wall bookshelves. For reference, the library has encyclopedias, dictionaries, atlases, and even the trusty almanac.

To administer the library's vital services are several librarians and the student Library Club. Members are a familiar sight in the Library and a rarity in their study halls. Cutting study halls for library work is characteristic. Most of the Library Club members love working in the library. Questionable? Not at all.

DEBATE

In the 1966-67 school year Monona Grove's Debate team became one of the most successful Debate squads ever seen at Monona Grove. Consisting of more than 20 students, they traveled throughout the state obtaining an impressive record and reputation. Although the teams weren't solidified until after Christmas, they had a consistently fine record.

Everyone from the novice to the Varsity weathered the dark and cold winter mornings and the bumpy rides in a caravan of coaches' cars. Most of the rides concluded in an additional but unintentional tour of the city and local information-giving gas stations in search of the destination.

The successes of the Varsity included first place at the Beloit, Shorewood, Sheboygan North, Monona Grove, Badger Conference, and District tournaments. Beloit was victory for all teams ending in a 17-1 sweep of the tournament. Most important, however, was the fact that the Varsity achieved the privilege of going to the State tournament as one of the best teams in the state.

But all successes were backed by the unified work of all team members under Mr. O'Brien's dedicated guidance. Without the constant interaction, cooperation and hard work put forth by all, the '66-'67 Debate team would not have been what it was.

N.H.S.

Scholarship, leadership, service and character. With these four qualities in mind, the National Honor Society chose thirteen juniors and six seniors for membership in early October. The senior members, previously elected, conducted tapping ceremonies during first period. All went well except for a slight (and intentional?!) slip of mind that caused re-entry into two math classes.

For a week gold keys worn around nineteen necks were seen throughout school. Thursday, October 13, these keys were replaced with small, gold N. H. S. pins. Again, the advisor, Mrs. Thompson was pleased with the success of the solemn installation ceremony. All was not perfect, however, for a certain junior boy couldn't quite contain his dismay when he ended up in the wrong row of chairs.

With Kathy Skaar, President; Marybeth Johnson, Vice-President; Sandy Huemmer, Secretary; and Ann Erickson, Treasurer leading the way, the National Honor Society undertook three projects. An honor pass committee, headed by Chris Buehner, investigated the possibility of some type of honor pass for worthy students. The red tape entangling this part of project slowed its progress to a halt. A very successful committee led by Kathy Skaar provided N. H. S. members as tutors for students who needed or requested them. A third committee, led by Debbie Hunter undertook the task of planning an exceptional field trip for the National Honor Society for the end of a year of busy service work.

F.T.A.

The Future Teachers of America Club has become quite active this year with a membership of a strong 25 students. The club's activities included visitations to Maywood School, bi-monthly bake sales and guest speakers at meetings. The Maywood visitations were by far the most interesting, with 5 members of F. T. A. sitting in on classrooms and observing teaching techniques every month for one morning. On their second visitation some of the members had the opportunity to present a lesson to the students themselves. F. T. A. also had a service project at Christmas which was caroling at Morningside sanitarium for the young shut-ins there. Members who wished to, attended Teachers' Conventions. All in all, 1966-67 was a busy one for F. T. A.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

EAGLE POST

Can you remember kids trudging down the halls with copies of the paper spilling from all sides? Perhaps you weren't a witness, but every third Friday, this sight became a reality.

Much work went into the EAGLE POST before distribution day. The copy had to be organized, dummied onto the sheets, and proofread at the printer.

Even when mistakes occurred, they were forgotten if the students were satisfied with the content. But because of the EAGLE POST, editors and reporters learned the art of Journalism and the students of MG received an interesting, informative Newspaper to read and enjoy.

SOMEWHERE OVER THE RAINBOW

An emerald green castle towered majestically toward the sky where it met with a multi-colored rainbow. Three tiny fountains were placed around the stately thrones. Each couple found their own pot of gold awaiting at their table.

Strains of the Woody O'Dell orchestra drifted into the dimly lit lounge.

The finale of the 1966 Junior Prom was the crowning of King Jerry. Jerry, and his queen, Sarah Pelleterri, were attended by Mike McCarty and Patty Sullivan; Kevin Forseth and Jan Salick; Steve Ring and Kathy Skaar; and John Boyle and Karen Hougan.

VICTORY AT SEA

The 1966 Homecoming will not be forgotten. A parade and pep rally Thursday night sparked the exciting weekend. The students and alumni brought the pep and in return the Silver Eagles fought for a well deserved victory over Middleton. During the half-time ceremonies Cap't Bob Noll crowned Queen Mary Vaade.

The Saturday night dance was beautifully decorated. It provided the perfect climax for a perfect weekend.

SPORTS

INTRAMURALS

Intramural sports supply the boys of all four grades with noon hour activity that gives the ones who were not good enough for the interscholastic team, but are still interested.

The intramural program offers a variety of sports including basketball, volleyball, battleball, and archery, in which teams are picked and a regular season round-robin is set up. After the season, tournaments are played between the classes with the seniors usually winning.

Besides being a group of guys with blue sweaters on, this group has a purpose. As Mr. Klement, their advisor, says, "The reason for having the club is to promote and better the athletic program, and help the school."

The club has in recent years purchased for the school, $1,000 in projection equipment and paid for part of the original trophy case; for the athletic department, it has bought a movie camera for game films, a whirlpool for the training room, blazers, the blocking sled, and the pitching machine. They also handle all the concessions and programs at the state track meets and usher at the regional basketball tournaments. In the future, the club plans to build a press box for the football field.

One of the main things that the club does for its members is the giving of two $100 scholarships.

The shouts vibrating through the gym that are heard every Monday night are caused by members of the Girls Athletic Association (G.A.A.). These girls participate in such activities as Volleyball, Basketball, Bombardment, Badminton, Ping-Pong, Softball, and Track (outside). In addition, G.A.A. is active throughout the Badger Conference, and has held meets with Sun Prairie, Edgerton, Jefferson, and Monroe.

G.A.A. also has a bowling league which meets after school on Tuesdays at Village Lanes--the results of which are published in the State Journal. Awards here, as well as for Monday night activities, are given.

Captains McCarty and Hilgendorf

This year our fighting varsity fought its way to a three-way tie for the Badger Conference championship. In the Homecoming game we won it by one point, 21-20, and kept the Homecoming winning streak a tradition. Next year, we will surely repeat as Conference champs, with a fine Freshman and J. V. coming up, and many returning letterman.

Ronde,
The good old days of history class have almost come to an end. I don't know how we ever made it through the year. Stay sober.

Love to you and your family and
name

Randi,
It sure has been fun going to school with such a sweet & nice kid.
I wish you the best of everything in the future.
Don't drink too much.
Have fun & be good.
Love,
Norm
